Prescription Importation Update

Safe and Affordable. Now.

We Need Your Feedback: Fourth Annual CPPI Survey

Please take the NEW Campaign for Personal Prescription Importation Annual Survey!

It will only take a few minutes and *your feedback is critical* for helping to share the realities of safe and affordable personal prescription importation with Congressional leaders and other decision makers.

Last year's "CPPI Personal Prescription Importation Survey" released July 13, 2020, highlights the incredible savings that Americans can access through personal prescription importation. Highlights from the survey help us tell the important story of prescription importation:

- $245 average monthly savings on prescription drugs from online Canadian pharmacies
- $648 average monthly savings for people who spend more than $300 on prescriptions
- 98% would recommend personal prescription importation from online Canadian pharmacies

You can find additional highlights from previous surveys here to give you a better sense of the strong messaging that emerges each year here.

Next Steps for the Executive Order on Prescription Drug Importation

While millions of Americans are already taking advantage of more affordable prescription drugs from licensed Canadian online pharmacies, the executive orders aimed at reducing prescription drug costs issued in July by President Trump will not become operational without additional guidance from the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). Topping President Trump's list was an executive order to expand Americans' access to medicines from abroad by expanding importation for personal use from countries like Canada. The Campaign for Personal Prescription Importation wants the Trump Administration to keep a few items in mind as they work to implement the executive orders. Read More

US Postal Service Plays Critical Role in Prescription Delivery

The US Postal Service plays an important role in the daily lives of all Americans, especially during the Coronavirus pandemic. For Americans who receive prescription medication through the mail, the US Postal Service is a critical lifeline.

USPS delivery times have increased between 18 percent and 32 percent since this spring.

"We cannot lose sight of the impact these delays will have on all our mail and our medications, now and after Election Day," says Emergency physician, Max Cooper.

About the Campaign for Personal Prescription Importation

The Campaign for Personal Prescription Importation (CPPI) is a national nonprofit patient advocacy organization that fights for Americans' access to safe, affordable prescription medications from Canada for personal use. Tens of millions of Americans – especially the elderly and others on fixed incomes – struggle to pay the extremely high price of prescription medications in the U.S. We are here to be their voice.

Millions of Americans use licensed Canadian pharmacies annually, to purchase their daily prescription medications at an affordable price. We believe that all Americans have a right to affordable medications. It is time to change the current U.S. policy on this issue to provide immediate access to life-saving medications, taken daily for chronic health conditions, at affordable prices.
