HHS Final Rule Could Deny American Access to Personal RxImportation on which They Depend

The Campaign for Personal Prescription Importation (CPPI) sent a letter to Health and Human Services Secretary Alex Azar expressing concern that the millions of Americans who currently rely on personal importation from licensed online Canadian pharmacies for access to affordable life-saving prescription drugs will be denied their medication due to the HHS September 24 “Final Importation Rule” and “Request for Proposals Regarding Waivers for Individual Prescription Drug Importation Programs.”

“While the Administration’s intention of reducing Americans’ prescription drug costs by expanding importation is clear, the September 24th Final Importation Rule and RFP would have the unintended consequence of cutting Americans off from the licensed pharmacies on which they depend,” said Jack Pfeiffer, CPPI Executive Director. “We urge you to exercise your authority to continue to permit Americans to import from licensed Canadian pharmacies.” Read More...

About the Campaign for Personal Prescription Importation

The Campaign for Personal Prescription Importation (CPPI) is a national nonprofit patient advocacy organization that fights for Americans’ access to safe, affordable prescription medications from Canada for personal use. Tens of millions of Americans – especially the elderly and others on fixed incomes – struggle to pay the extremely high price of prescription medications in the U.S. We are here to be their voice.

Millions of Americans use licensed Canadian pharmacies annually, to purchase their daily prescription medications at an affordable price. We believe that all Americans have a right to affordable medications. It is time to change the current U.S. policy on this issue to provide immediate access to life-saving medications, taken daily for chronic health conditions, at affordable prices.
